I thank the Lord for my wife, who has stood by my side for more than 56 years. Ruth has prayed for me, admonished me, and encouraged me in ministry. Over the years she has proofread and critiqued all of my lessons and most of this book.

My mother gave me to the Lord when I was born in Omaha on December 12, 1938; and it was her prevailing prayers that brought me back from a troubled life as a teen. She had recommended a home Bible study class. One day I asked her where and when it was. It did not take long for Mom to phone the teacher. I thank God for my mother's faith and prayers. She is with our Savior and Lord where we will soon meet again.

It was Lutie Cross who taught the Bible in her home off of Princeton in Orlando to all ages. The elderly lady had a special love for young adults. It was in that weekly class that I met Ruth Lundy. We married in 1961. Mrs. Cross encouraged and prayed for me. I thank the Lord for Bermetta Hoffecker, who taught courses in homes for a set period of time. These were two hours or longer with homework. She personally took an interest in me and prayed for me. These two women, who used the Scofield Reference Bible, gave me my foundation in Bible doctrine upon which Bible college and continual studies and ministries have built. Over the years, I have appreciated Paul Eymann, a professor I had for various courses in my eighteen months at the Arizona Bible Institute. Dr. LeRoy Thomas was our pastor at Palmcoft Baptist Church in Phoenix and a founder of Southwestern College, now Arizona Christian University. This man was gifted in discipling people into ministry. He took me under his wings to educate me in the inner workings of the church and taught me the importance of the local church and what Baptists really are.

My youngest daughter, Kathleen, has encouraged me over the years to get these materials into print. After sharing an early manuscript with Rev. John (Jack) Riggall, Chairman at Pinebrook Services in PA, he emphasized how important it was that I finish and get this book published. If it were not for these two, this work would still be on the hard drive, unfinished.

Several have received manuscripts. All have spoken encouraging words about the book. Some have returned their copies with corrections. From these I especially thank Katherine West, Jean Archambault-White, Mary Alta Griffin, and Susan Snowden for the detailed work they did in proofreading the text.
